

Vermeer FM110 Front Mower

Read More

SKU: FM110

Categories: Vermeer

Product Description

FM110 highlights

- Designed for efficiency, versatility and reliability
- Choose between a rubber roller conditioner, steel flail conditioner or no conditioner to fit your specific needs
- Pair it with the CM295 combination mower to complete your triple mower set up and make every pass count in the field

Achieve efficiency and a premium cut with a robust cutter bar made with 4-mm (0.16-in) specially shaped pods that allow rapid forage flow, even when on slopes. A short distance between the suspension accumulator and cylinder helps the mower adapt quickly to changing ground conditions, allowing the cutter bar to float for an even cut. Each pod is made from abrasion-resistant Hardox® steel to provide you with long-lasting performance acre after acre. Choose the best option for your specific needs with options for a rubber roller conditioner, steel flail conditioner or a mower without a conditioner. Gain complete control with the pull-type front hitch. With more than 20 in (51 cm) of vertical movement, it offers flexibility and protection, letting you operate more confidently.
