Product Description

TE1710 highlights

- Reduce nutritional losses in your hay by shortening dry-down time
- Convenient maintenance and durability
- Ground contouring and flotation in the field and a smooth ride on the road

Hook tines staggered in length are designed to help wet crop on bottom be gently placed on top for a quick, consistent dry down. Stability and durability come from a heavy-duty, solid-frame construction. Get your hay off the field sooner by achieving a quicker dry down. Help protect your machine especially in heavy, wet crops with the radial pin clutch protecting the drive components and center gearbox.
